Government and Commerce
Peru has maintained a consular presence in Georgia since 1995, when the Honorary Consulate opened, to be followed by the 2006 opening of the Consulate General. The office has jurisdiction over six southeastern U.S. states. Jaime Sparks has served as Consul General since August 2019.

The State of Georgia has had representation in Peru since 2018. Ximena Portillo serves as the state's representative in the market.

The Peruvian-American Business Chamber of Georgia, a division of the Georgia Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, promotes business, tourism and investment between Peru and the United States.

The Georgia Hispanic Chamber of Commerce was founded in Atlanta in 1984 and promotes the domestic and international economic development of Hispanic businesses and business people. The organization seeks to bring the issues and concerns of the growing number of Hispanic entrepreneurs to the forefront of Georgia's economic agenda.

During his time in Congress, former Governor Nathan Deal voted in favor of an agreement between the United States and Peru to promote free trade in 2008.

Decatur, Georgia has a sister city agreement with Trujillo, Peru.

Academics
The University System of Georgia (USG) offers 21 study abroad programs to Peru in programs such as language, psychology, nursing and international business.

As of Fall 2020, 173 Peruvian students were enrolled in USG schools.

Emory University also provides programs for students to study abroad in Peru.

Arts and Culture
Founded in Atlanta in 2008 by Peruvian native John Zorilla, the organization Apu Inka records and promotes Latin American folk music and traditions and performs concerts around the world.

In December, 2017, the Michael C. Carlos Museum hosted the exhibit, Threads, which focused on the history of textiles in Central and South America, including Peruvian textiles.

Eva Ayllón, one of Peru’s most enduring stars, performed in 2018 at the Rialto Center for the Arts in Atlanta.
International Trade
The United States-Peru Trade Promotion Agreement (PTPA), a comprehensive bilateral free trade agreement, took effect on February 1, 2009.

EXPORTS: In 2020, Georgia exports to Peru totaled $134.5 million. Peru is the 41st largest export market for Georgia.

Top exports from Georgia to Peru include insecticides, kraft paper, poultry, chemical woodpulp, and acrylic polymers.

Georgia leads the nation in the export of the following goods to Peru: insecticides, kraft paper, and poultry.

IMPORTS: In 2020, Georgia imports from Peru totaled $172.7 million. Peru ranks 47th among Georgia’s importer nations.

Top imports from Peru to Georgia include onions, grapes, sugar, dates, figs, avocados, and pineapples, citrus, and coffee.

Capital Investment
There are at least 10 Georgia companies with operations in Peru, including but not limited to:

- Delta Air Lines
- Equifax
- PIC Group
- The Coca-Cola Company
- UPS Supply Chain Solutions

Transportation
Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport offers daily nonstop flights from Atlanta to Lima, Peru. 2020 international connectivity was limited by the COVID-19 pandemic. As restrictions ease, the airport expects a return to pre-COVID connections.

The Georgia Ports Authority (GPA) in Brunswick has an established relationship with the ports of Peru and offers shipping services to Callao.

About GDEcD
The Georgia Department of Economic Development (GDEcD) plans, manages and mobilizes state resources to attract new business investment to Georgia, drive the expansion of existing industry and small business, locate new markets for Georgia products, inspire tourists to visit Georgia and promote the state as a top destination for arts events and film, music and digital entertainment projects. For more information, visit www.georgia.org.

GDEcD’s International Representative in Peru
Ximena Portillo
Trade Representative
State of Georgia – Peru
Av. José Pardo 601 of. 704
Miraflores, Lima – PERU
T: +51 949 478064
xportillo@georgia.org

*Information valid as of March 2021